

The Mount Vernon Store, Opened 1894.

The store is managed by Mr. Richard E. Pickens, formerly of Marion, Ky., a gentleman of fine business abilities and one whose personal popularity has done much to make the store the success it is. He is ably assisted by Claude Sloan, Ed. Jones, Fred Daniels and Miss Essie Sloan, each of whom are ever ready to give their best attention and experience to the service of the store and its customers.

Perhaps the strongest evidence of the success of Stinson Bros. in Mt. Vernon, is the fact that in 1902, their business had so far developed that to accommodate their numerous customers on the West Side they opened up this branch store under the name and title of "W. L. Lawrence & Company."

Mr. Lawrence was for years in the service of the firm and had shown such marked ability as a clerk that when a suitable man was required for this new venture, he was selected. How well he has justified the confidence of his former employers is amply testified in the position he holds today and the business success which bears his name. Under his management the business has from year to year shown substantial increase and bids fair to become, at no distant date, second only to the older Mt. Vernon establishment. The same upright methods which made the original store so popular are rigidly practiced by Mr. Lawrence and the people on the West Side have in this store a safe guarantee that they get the fullest value for their money.

The lines of merchandise are practically duplicates of those found in the down town store and include Dry Goods, Shoes, Notions, etc., etc. A particularly strong department is that devoted to Groceries and this enjoys a large trade on these staples and necessary articles.

Mr. Ernest Trousdale who graduated from a clerkship in the Enfield store was brought to the West Side Store as chief assistant to Mr. Lawrence at a big increase in salary and with Felix Groseman, Arthur Stagger, make an efficient corps of sales people to wait on the trade at the West Side Store.

One of the best of the Stinson Bros.' combinations is the store situated at this important town and its remarkable growth is a feature of which this enterprising firm have every reason to be proud. Under the able management of Mr. Perry B. McCullough it has grown and prospered with each succeeding year and no store has a surer hold on the good will of its patrons.

Selling good reliable merchandise at the closest prices has made it the most popular trading center of the town and surrounding district and the name of "Stinson" is accepted as a sure guarantee of quality and fair dealing.

Mr. McCullough is ably assisted by Mr. Ernest H. Irwin, Chas. Marlett, Geo. Fowler, Paul Pomeroy, Edna E. Thorne and Mary Cochran as sales force and Miss Florence Cochran as cashier.

The Lawrenceville store makes a specialty of Dry Goods, Shoes, Hats, Ladies' wraps, Boys' and Children's Clothing and Groceries.

The youngest in point of time this store, although but two years old, is second to none of all the Stinson enterprises and its phenomenal success has excited the admiration and wonder of those who have watched its progress.

Situated on the West Side of the city in the midst of a densely populated section with large mills and factories employing thousand of skilled and well paid artisans, it has jumped at one bound to the front rank of Evansville's stores, and already enjoys the deserved reputation of being a first class department store where good merchandise can always be bought at the fairest prices.

The store is under the personal management of Mr. W. E. Stinson, the youngest of the four brothers and so skillfully has he conducted affairs by judicious and extensive advertising and up-to-date methods of business that the store is not only drawing a large trade from the imfrom disa... country adjoining... those who want first-class merchandise and selling on a strictly cash basis has made the store famous as the store where money will do its best and its future growth is assured on the basis of this public confidence.

The West Side store makes a special effort in the Mail Order business and already has quite an extensive connection through the mails with people who live miles away.

Carrying extensive stocks of fine Dry Goods, Shoes, Hats, Clothing, Carpets, Rugs, Mattings and Ladies' Ready-to-wear Garments, this store is well able to take care of the wants of its daily increasing patronage and there is no store anywhere that can give better values.

Mr. Stinson is assisted by the following efficient staff of buyers and department managers: Mr. Theodore Hartig, Shoes, Hats and furnishings; Mr. Lawrence Stinson, clothing and carpets; Miss Stella Everhardt, Dress goods and silks; Miss Tillie Mann, hosiery and notions; Miss Rose Lappa, ladies' ready-to-wear garments; Miss Jennie Fairhurst, Herbert Rogers, Florence Stinson, Forest Shelby, Wilford Stinson, Wilford Stinson, Miss Mabel White, cashier, and Roy Roth, cash boy.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong.

He neglected to take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first signs of kidney trouble, hoping it would wear away, and he was soon a victim of Bright's disease. There is danger in delay, but if Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at once the symptom will disappear, the kidneys are strengthened and you are soon sound and well. A. R. Bass of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night, and had a severe backache and pains in the kidneys, and was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. J. H. Orme.

A Good Cook.

A Uniontown woman saw in a newspaper how a man could be cured of drinking by putting a little whisky in everything he ate. This, however, was before Union went "dry" as we all know such a thing could not happen now. So she proceeded to sprinkle catables with the fiery liquid and her husband suffered the treatment three times a day. He did not say anything until the supper of the third day, when he exclaimed to his wife, "Molly, it is astonishing how much you are improving in your cooking lately."—Uniontown Telegram.

The Pain Family

You know them; they are numerous, and make their presence felt everywhere. The names of the family are Headache, Toothache, Rheumatism, Backache, Stomach ache, Neuralgia, etc. They are sentinels that warn you of any derangement of your system. When the brain nerves become exhausted or irritated, Headache makes you miserable; if the stomach nerves are weak, indigestion results, and you double up with pain, and if the more prominent nerves are affected, Neuralgia simply makes life unendurable. The way to stop pain is to soothe and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this. The whole Pain family yield to their influence. Harmless if taken as directed.

"I find Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills an excellent remedy for overcoming headache, neuralgia and distressing pain of all sorts. I have used them for a past seven years in this capacity with the best of results."
